

World Championship in Cooperation Stockholm 1 – 6 June 2006

Invitation – First Announcement

The City of Stockholm together with Globetree invites you to 6 days of working together with children and youth from around the world. The children's questions, worries, ideas, visions and creative actions will be the challenge to meet the UN Millennium Development Goals.

All agree there are many problems to be solved around the world and all agree we need innovations and creative solutions at all levels to tackle them. Children are excellent innovators and creative partners - if we allow them!

The World Championship in Cooperation

- is an arena where children/youth and adults meet in a non-formal way and with numerous creative tools.
- will work on an agenda how to cooperate within and between municipalities and cities all over the world.
- offers a unique opportunity to meet and learn together over boundaries of age, profession, cultures and nations.
- makes every participant a winner. Our dream is to award everyone with a Gold Medal – a reminder of the time we united forces to challenge old structures.

Themes

The guiding themes are Environment – Diversity – Communication

Time

The Manifestation of World Championship in Cooperation will take place 1 – 6th of June 2006 in Stockholm. The regional and international connections will also be through the Internet.

Preparations

To prepare for the World Championship in Cooperation several meetings will take place in Sweden and other nations. Please see Time Table – You are welcome to join all!

Who is invited?

Children, youth and adults from around the world

Anchors of the Event

Cities/municipalities in the Baltic Sea and the Lake Victoria Region will be the anchors of the Event and will join with delegations composed of the following stake holders:

* Mayor/Municipal Commissioner/Chief Exec. Officer and Councillors

* Children/youth

* Teachers/children leaders

* Artists/story tellers

* Elders and other adults with special concern for children and the aim/themes of the World Championship in Cooperation.

Stockholm August 2004

Kajsa Dahlström

President Globetree

Executive Director World Championship in Cooperation

Preparations - Agenda see reversed page